

GIVES $2,500 GEM TO IRISH.

The Manhattan Committee of the Irish Relief National Organization announced yesterday the contribution of a brooch valued at $2,500 by Marie Nareille, the singer known as the "Australian Nightingale." James J. Hoey, Chairman of the Manhattan Committee, made public a statement from Miss Nareille, in which she said:

"My heart aches for Ireland, and I am giving to the men and women and little children suffering over there my most valued treasure. It is not a great deal, but it will help, I hope."

Martin Conboy, Chairman for Greater New York, presided last night at a mass meeting at the Bronx. The drive will be formally opened to-day all over the country.

A REAL SHOW!—Our Spring Display—the handsomest collection of new Models and Patterns in Men's Clothes in all New York. And (thank goodness) priced low—the lowest, in fact, for new apparel in some years. When it comes to holding up the Stanhope standard of aristocratic clothes at democratic prices—we're still on top!

Like Old Friends—Fine Wilton Rugs

appeal to most people because they wear well. The daily life of a family is hard on the life of a rug. No other kind of rug, excepting an Oriental, has both the lasting beauty and lasting quality of a Wilton. Our collection of Wiltons is one to evoke enthusiasm because of the variety of designs—there being adaptations of Persian, Turkish, Chinese, Japanese and French Aubusson designs—and sizes vary from the smallest mats, 22½" x 36", to the largest carpet size 11.3 ft. x 15 ft.

The following prices are indicative of the great drop in rug prices this Spring—every rug we own has been marked at the new prices. Wiltons in the regular room size (9 x 12 feet) are now priced at

$74.50, $94.50, $110, $125, $135 and $150

This Furniture Was Made in Our Shop

THE living room being the center of the family's daily existence, comfortable upholstered furniture receives its share of usefulness. It is because such furniture is so much used, that it must be most carefully constructed.

We make most of our own upholstered furniture so we can guarantee its lasting qualities. It will be as comfortable and attractive and in as fine condition a year from now, as the day you buy it.

Unusual—27-Inch Filet Net, 40c Yard

CONSIDERING that the season of net curtains is here, and skilful fingers are restless to be making new curtains for the Summer home, this announcement is important news. The width is more than ample for curtains and the price is so much less than it was last year, that we are anxious for you to know about it immediately. The mesh is soft and finely woven—it comes in white or ecru.

Going Away for Easter?

YOU will delight in travelling with such a smart, lightweight suitcase as this one of black enamel duck. In either of three sizes, 22, 24 or 26 inches, there is ample space, with the added space of the removable tray. And think how much lower prices have become when you can buy a case like this for $13.50

SEVENTH FLOOR

This Electric Washing Machine is Only $185

IN this Electric Airplane Washer, which we so highly recommend, all unnecessary parts have been eliminated. There are no mechanical attachments in the boiler to catch and tear sheer fabrics. It washes, boils and sterilizes in one operation. And, when it is not in use, there is a table top attachment that makes it a very handy kitchen table.

This washer is now being demonstrated in the Housefurnishing Department. You should by all means see it in operation.

Easter Toys Bring Easter Joys

—particularly if they happen to be the furry bunnies, ducks and chickens that are frisking about the Toy Department these days. You should see them, and hold one against your cheek—they're so nice and snuggly.

Have you seen the beautiful Easter eggs? Silk ones in gay colors, to fill with candy, or the wonder-eggs (and this is the first time we have been able to get them in several years) that you look into and see—but that would be giving the story away! Smooth-skinned rabbits, sitting up as perky as you please, are just longing to have you take their heads off and fill them with little gummy candies. You will want to give an when you see the Jack Horner pies—marvelous to behold—one a wee chicken house—another a great egg. Snap crackers for your party, too. And surprise Rabbits, made of netting like the Christmas stockings, and filled with many small toys. There, you see, we've talked and talked and yet we haven't begun to tell you all. But we'll tell you more when you come to the store.

The Easter Gift Shop

ALL of the beauty of artcraft in gift things is here—lovely boudoir sets; pottery; decorative pillows; candy boxes, gifts to embroider—in fact, innumerable suggestions, all charming, no matter how modest the price.

FIFTH FLOOR

Imported French Blankets

THESE very lovely blankets, just arrived from France, are mostly all wool, with a small percentage of cotton to insure endurance. The charming floral designs in pink and blue are characteristically French. Considering that this is an import, and the quality especially fine, the price is most moderate.
